

VISION

Women Helping Women Heal
from Addiction, Violence, Poverty and Homelessness

PHILOSOPHY

Supporting women's health, wellness, healing and recovery;
in order to facilitate this, women need to be free from addiction(s) - including problematic drug/alcohol use and/or dependence – and violence.

MISSION STATEMENT

Chrysalis Society will ensure the provision of:

- A) safe, supportive, home-like environments in which women, and including trans women, with the support of professional staff, can empower themselves with the knowledge and means they individually need to be able to stabilize in their health and lives.
- B) structured, low-barrier programming that demonstrates through education and holistic practices the means by which women can successfully increase their capacity to sustain freedoms from chemical-dependence, addiction(s), violence, and homelessness, with consistent emphasis on and respect for women's unique needs and individual journeys.
- C) effective, professional support, services and advocacy for women residing in our programs, and women seeking and/or requiring referrals and/or bridging supports with other community-based resources.
